
Human polygons supervise training and score held-out agreement; never distance predictors.

Redshift is a catalogue label. Angular structure does not supply an absolute distance ruler.